Dr. Laura Hart Announces Move

Departure slated for Dec. 2022.

KNOX CITY, Texas (September 30, 2022) – Knox County Hospital District reluctantly accepted Dr. Laura Hart’s resignation recently. She will continue her practice in Knox City Clinic until October 29, 2022.

Dr Hart encourages her patients to continue to make appointments to see her for all their medical needs and then transfer services to the new physician that will be joining the community, Dr. Kendra Williams, who will start working in the Knox City Clinic October 17. Please be watching for future details in the Courier and KCHD’s Facebook page.

“I have enjoyed my time here and being a part of KCHD’s Hometown Healthcare Team,” Dr. Hart said. “I am very appreciative of KCHD’s CEO, Stephen Kuehler and the Board of Trustees for all their support through the years.” Dr. Hart is leaving due to personal reasons; she and her family will be relocating to Louisiana.

“KCHD and the entire Knox County community wishes her the best and is grateful for her time here in Knox County,” Kuehler noted. “Since she joined KCHD in December 2018, she has established a wonderful patient clientele. She tirelessly served as the Medical Director of Munday Nursing Center during the critical Covid pandemic and was very diligent in caring for all the residents. Dr. Hart has also served as the Chief Medical Officer over the Knox County Hospital District, as well as the Local Health Authority for Knox County the past two years.”
